Structure of the academic year: general description

The academic year is structured in two semesters (Fall and Spring), each comprised of 14 teaching weeks.

The Fall semester starts the second week of September and ends the second week of December. It is followed by the first examination period of four weeks: the third week of December and second, third and fourth weeks of January).

The Spring semester starts the last week of January and goes through the first week of May.

The second examination period begins right afterwards and lasts until the end of the fourth week of May.

Resits take place in the last three weeks of June.

First semester resits can be taken either in the May or the June examination period, but only once, while second semester resits are to be taken in June.

There is a two-week break for Christmas, a one-week break for Easter and the summer holidays are in July and August.
